ITEM 3: SOURCE AND AMOUNT OF FUNDS

Pursuant to the terms of a Preferred Stock Purchase Agreement between Genentech and IDEC dated March 16, 1995 (the "Purchase Agreement"), a copy of which was attached as Exhibit B to the Original Schedule 13D, Genentech agreed to purchase up to six subseries of IDEC's Series A Preferred Stock. The six subseries of Series A Preferred Stock issuable pursuant to the Purchase Agreement are hereinafter referred to as the "Convertible Preferred Stock."

Under the terms of the Purchase Agreement, on April 4, 1995, Genentech purchased 100,000 shares of IDEC's Series A-1 Preferred Stock (initially convertible into 1,000,000 shares of IDEC Common Stock) for $50.00 per share of Series A-1 Preferred Stock. The total purchase price of $5,000,000 for the Series A-1 Preferred Stock was paid from Genentech's working capital. Under the terms of the Purchase Agreement, on August 22, 1995, Genentech purchased 37,521 shares of IDEC's Series A-2 Preferred Stock (initially convertible into 375,210 shares of IDEC Common Stock) for $66.63 per share of Series A-2 Preferred Stock. The total purchase price of $2,500,000 for the Series A-2 Preferred Stock was paid from Genentech's working capital. Under the terms of the Purchase Agreement, on March 15, 1996, Genentech purchased 22,993 shares of IDEC's Series A-3 Preferred Stock (initially convertible into 229,930 shares of IDEC Common Stock) for $217.46 per share of Series A-3 Preferred Stock. The total purchase price of $5,000,000 for the Series A-3 Preferred Stock was paid from Genentech's working capital.

Under the terms of an Acceleration Agreement between Genentech and IDEC dated May 9, 1996 (the "Acceleration Agreement"), a copy of which was attached as Exhibit B to the Amended Schedule 13D filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission on May 21, 1996, Genentech purchased 100,000 shares of IDEC's Series A-6 Preferred Stock at $75.00 per share of Series A-6 Preferred Stock. The total purchase price of $7,500,000 for the Series A-6 Preferred Stock was paid from Genentech's working capital. Each share of Series A-6 Preferred Stock became convertible into 2.15653 shares of IDEC Common Stock on December 24, 1997, the date that was 20 trading days following the date of marketing approval of IDEC's C2B8 (Rituxan(R)) by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration.

Each share of Convertible Preferred Stock is convertible, at the option of Genentech, into shares of IDEC's Common Stock at predetermined rates described in IDEC's Certificate of Determination of Preferences (the "Certificate") and will not have voting rights until converted into shares of IDEC Common Stock. Each share of Convertible Preferred

Stock also will automatically convert into shares of IDEC's Common Stock at predetermined rates described in the Certificate upon transfer of ownership to a third party unaffiliated with Genentech. Under the 1995 Registration Rights Agreement between IDEC and Genentech, IDEC, at Genentech's request, will file resale registration statements covering certain of the shares of Common Stock issuable upon conversion of the Convertible Preferred Stock.

Genentech and IDEC also entered into a Collaboration Agreement dated as of March 16, 1995, as amended (the "Collaboration Agreement"), and an Expression Technology License dated as of March 16, 1995. Under the terms of the Collaboration Agreement, Genentech and IDEC will collaborate in the development of C2B8 for the treatment of humans of non-Hodgkins B Cell Lymphoma in the United States and Canada. The two companies will co-promote C2B8 for the treatment in humans of non-Hodgkins B Cell Lymphoma in the United States and Canada, and share profits from its commercialization. IDEC also granted Genentech exclusive marketing rights to all other markets outside the United States and Canada, and IDEC will receive a royalty on sales in such markets. Genentech has sublicensed its marketing rights in Japan to an unrelated third party and has agreed to sublicense its marketing rights other than in the United States and Japan to a related third party. Under the terms of the Expression Technology License, IDEC licensed its proprietary vector technology for high expression of recombinant proteins in mammalian cells in consideration for an up-front licensing fee and royalties on sales of Genentech products manufactured using the technology.

ITEM 4: PURPOSE OF TRANSACTION

The purpose of the purchases of the shares of Convertible Preferred Stock on April 4, 1995, August 22, 1995, March 15, 1996 and May 9, 1996 is investment. Depending on its evaluation of IDEC's business, prospects, financial condition, the market for IDEC securities, other opportunities available to Genentech, general economic conditions, general market conditions, other future developments and the contractual restrictions described in Items 3 and 6, Genentech may decide to sell some or all of its investment in the capital stock of IDEC through public market sales or in negotiated transactions, to or through one or more broker-dealers, or in underwritten offerings, block trades, agency placements, brokerage transactions or otherwise. Depending on the same factors, Genentech may in the future purchase additional capital stock of IDEC or enter into hedging or similar transactions as described in Item 6.

Except as described in Items 3 and 6 and the foregoing paragraph, Genentech does not have any plan or proposal relating to, or which would result in, any event described in (a) - (j) of the instructions to this Item 4.

ITEM 6: CONTRACTS, ARRANGEMENTS, UNDERSTANDINGS OR RELATIONSHIP WITH RESPECT TO SECURITIES OF THE ISSUER

To the best knowledge of the undersigned, except as described below and in Item 3, there are no contracts, arrangements, understandings or relationships (legal or otherwise) among the persons named in Item 2 and between such persons and any person with respect to any securities of IDEC, including but not limited to transfer or voting of any of the securities, finder's fees, joint ventures, loan or option agreements, puts or calls, guarantees or profits, division of profits or losses, or the giving or withholding of proxies.

Under the Standstill Agreement between the parties dated as of March 16, 1995 (the "Standstill Agreement"), a copy of which was attached to the Original Schedule 13D as Exhibit D, Genentech and IDEC have agreed as follows:

1. Prior to March 16, 2001, Genentech will not acquire any IDEC equity securities without the written consent of IDEC, except as described in Item 3; and

2. Prior to March 16, 2001, Genentech will not, without the written consent of IDEC, make, directly or indirectly, any solicitation of proxies from stockholders to vote (i) in any contest regarding the election of directors of IDEC except to the extent necessary to maintain the election of one director representing Genentech; or (ii) in any contest or on any proposition regarding any business combination, restructuring, liquidation, sale of assets, extraordinary dividend or other extraordinary transaction which (A) was initiated by Genentech or any affiliate of Genentech, or (B) involves IDEC and any third party or person controlled by, under common control with, controlling, or otherwise affiliated with Genentech. The foregoing obligations terminate earlier upon the occurrence of certain events described in the Standstill Agreement.

Subject to the contractual restrictions described above, Genentech may from time to time enter into hedging transactions, including short sales and buying puts and selling calls, for its own account or with broker-dealers and the broker-dealers may engage in short sales of Common Stock of IDEC in the course of hedging the positions they assume with Genentech. In connection with such transactions, Genentech may also loan or pledge shares of Convertible Preferred Stock to a broker-dealer. Genentech has recently entered into the following hedging transactions:

On May 4, 2000, in privately negotiated transactions, Genentech sold call options covering an aggregate of 300,000 shares of IDEC Common Stock. The strike price of the call options was $41.60 per share. The call options can only be exercised on and expire on February 28, 2001.

On May 19, 2000, in privately negotiated transactions, Genentech sold call options covering an aggregate of 300,000 shares of IDEC Common Stock. The strike price of the call options was $99.30 per share. The call options can only be exercised on and expire on February 28, 2001.

On May 24, 2000, in privately negotiated transactions, Genentech sold call options covering an aggregate of 300,000 shares of IDEC Common Stock. The strike price of the call options was $84.75. The call options can only be exercised on and expire on February 23, 2001.

The call options, if exercised, will be settled in cash, unless Genentech elects to physically settle with shares of IDEC stock. If cash settled, Genentech will pay to the counterparty an amount equal to (a) the number of shares subject to the call option multiplied by (b) the positive amount, if any, determined by subtracting the call option strike price from the market price per share of the Common Stock on the expiration date (the "Market Price"). No payment would be made under the call options if the Market Price is less than the strike price of the call options on the expiration date.

On May 4, 2000, in privately negotiated transactions, Genentech purchased put options covering an aggregate of 300,000 shares of IDEC Common Stock. The strike price of the put options was $57.39 per share. The put options can only be exercised on and expire on February 28, 2001.

On May 19, 2000, in privately negotiated transactions, Genentech purchased put options covering an aggregate of 300,000 shares of IDEC Common Stock. The strike price of the put options was $62.40 per share. The put options can only be exercised on and expire on February 28, 2001.

The put options, if exercised, will be settled in cash, unless Genentech elects to physically settle with shares of IDEC stock. If cash settled, the counterparty will pay to Genentech an amount equal to (a) the number of shares subject to the put option multiplied by (b) the positive amount, if any, determined by subtracting the Market Price from the put option strike price. No payment would be made under the put options if the Market Price is greater than the put option strike price on the expiration date.

Genentech entered into the call and put options to reduce the investment risk associated with its rights to convert its Convertible Preferred Stock into shares of the Common Stock. Genentech intends to engage in additional hedging activity, which may include the sale of additional call options and the purchase of additional put options, in connection with hedging the investment risk associated with its conversion rights with respect to its Convertible Preferred Stock.
